Fifty Dollars Reward.

THERE came to the stables of the subscriber, on Monday the 1st inst. a person calling himself
Mr. PEYTON,
and obtained a horse and gig on hire, as he said, to go to Ellicott's Mills, and return in the afternoon of the same day; and as he has not yet returned, there is strong reason to believe that his intention is to swindle me out of my property. He is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age, of genteel appearance, and well calculated to deceive.
The horse is a grey, about 15 hands high, 9 or 10 years old, has a switch tail, a speck on the right eye, and moves swiftly. The gig has a green body, carriage and wheels black, the lining of blue cloth, red stuff top, linings, plated double—outside joints.
I will give the above reward for the recovery of the horse and gig, and the detection of the scoundrel, or 20 dollars for the horse and gig only, and all reasonable expenses if delivered to me, No. 26, North Liberty street, Baltimore.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
HAHN's ANTI BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.
Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

MONDAY, JULY 20, 1818.

To the Editor of the National Advocate.

SIR—A man of your penetration must have long ago discovered that this is the age of discoveries. A number of great geniuses have, during the present generation, made it appear, that in their studies of every science, and their practice of every art, our ancestors have almost invariably mistaken their way. One of these "rara avis in terra," in a review of a volume of ballads lately published in England, ventured to pronounce on the works of Dryden and Pope, that they were much too "laboured and refined;" in short, that they were not what it is the rage to style every fashionable sing-song—"simple and natural." The following burlesque arose from the reading of this profound critic's opinion, and I think you will agree with me, that the ridicule which it throws on some of our "natural and simple" ballads is worthy of public participation. I offer it to you for that purpose, and am, sir,

Your very humble servant,
July 13, 1818. SAM. SIMPLE.

AN ATTEMPT AT THE SIMPLE.

What! stranger, have you never heard
Of the lady under the holly-tree?
The tale is sad, and will make you weep—
It always does me.

The lady had a little dog,
'Twas of King Charles' breed, [tell,
And she lov'd him as well, as no tongue can
Aye, very much indeed!

But poor little Pompey was taken ill,
And eke looked wondrous faint;
"Oh! go for the doctor," the lady she cried
"To remove this sad complaint."

So the doctor he came, and felt his pulse,
And held up his watch to his eye, [lose,
"Fair lady, twelve ounces of blood must he
Or your little dog will die."

But poor little Pompey grew very weak,
And eke looked wondrous faint,
"Oh! go for another doctor, I pray,
To remove this sad complaint."

So the doctor he came, and felt his pulse,
"Fair lady, he's very ill,
Some strength'ning medicine he must have,'
And he gave him a mercury pill.

But poor little Pompey still grew weak,
And eke looked wondrous faint,
"Oh! go for another doctor, I pray,
To remove this sad complaint."

So the doctor he came, and look'd very grave,
And he held up his cane to his nose,
"Some opening physic he must have,
His system to compose."

Then he gave him a potion, and gave him a lotion
Whilst he gave dismal cries,
And the little dog died as dead as a door nail,
And twisted his gooseberry eyes!

"Oh! wretched!—that my little dog,
Lately in health so well,
Should thus die suddenly by death!
In-com-pre-hen-si-ble!

"His body shall be opened
To find the dreadful cause;
Pompey shall be buried with great pomp—
Aye! bless his little paws!"

Then the surgeon came, and he took out his knife,
And made a great hole in his side;
The blood trickled down, and 'tis dreadful to think
What a terrible sight he espied!

For out of his stomach a tape-worm there came
Full seventy yards or more, [geon,
And he twisted about the throat of the sur-
And strangled him on the floor!

"Ah! fool that I was," the lady she cried,
"Ah! silly foolish thing; [worms,
I ought to have known that Pompey had
And sent for doctor Ching.

"If I had sent for doctor Ching,
I might have blessed the day;
For he would have cured Pompey with his patent worm-destroying lozenges—
I dare say.

"Dolly! deny me to all my friends,
My grief it is increased; [will I watch,
Three nights and three days, without sleep,
By the corps of the deceased.

"Go carry the surgeon into the garden,
And bury him, since he's dead: [spade,
So the gardener made a deep hole with his
And the surgeon was bu-ri-ed.

So the lady she locked herself into her room,
For her grief it was increased!
And three nights and three days, without sleep, did she watch
By the corps of the deceased!

And when the fourth day it came,
Dolly went to her lady's door, [ed,
But found it was locked, and then she knock-
Full seventy times or more!

But she did not attend to the seventy knocks
As she lay upon her bed,
Which is not much to be wondered at—
Poor lady! she was dead!

Then Dolly forced the door with her fist,
And into the room she went, [flutter,
And she opened the shutter in a very great
For she was ready to faint!

And ah! and oh! what a sight she saw,
Dear me! 'twas very shocking;
The lady was dead as she lay on her bed,
And had stifled herself in her stocking.

Pompey lay stretched within her arms,
Reclined was her head,
His precious limbs were cold and stiff,
And the whites of his eyes were red!

When Dolly saw these doleful sights,
She felt a-shiver-ed,
And went in a fit as dead as a stone,
And pitch'd upon her head.

But Dolly did not complain at all;
Indeed she could not speak;
One eye was hanging against the wall,
And t'other hung on her cheek!

Well!—into one coffin the bodies were placed,
And buried under the Holly;
This excellent epitaph graved on the grave,
"The Lady—her Dog—and Dolly!"

ALEXANDRIA:
MONDAY MORNING, JULY 20.

Lawrence Fienoti, the Italian who about one year since bit off the nose of his wife while she was sleeping, and which at that time created sensations of horror and disgust throughout the whole country, we are happy to hear was arrested at New-York on Saturday last, by a Mr. Raymond. After undergoing an examination before the magistracy, he was committed to prison. In all probability justice will consign this unnatural and brutal wretch to the state prison for life—the turpitude of his crime having disqualified him for longer enjoyment of liberty in civil society.

[Balt. Fed. Rep.

The revenue cutter Active, capt. Beard, came up yesterday morning, having in charge the Venezulian brig India Libre, found lurking in the bay. It is reported that strong suspicion of piracy exists against her, as when she was first boarded by the pilots in coming in the bay, no officer higher than a boatswain had the command; she has been into several harbors in the bay, where most of her crew left her at pleasure from time to time, with what they could take—she was finally seized in Patuxent. FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

A gentleman who came passenger in the schnr. Hummingbird, from New-Orleans, informs that that place was very healthy at the time of their leaving it; but few vessels were there, and they were all taken up; they met at the Balize, however, 18 sail, principally square rigged, bound up.—While the Hummingbird was on her way down the Mississippi, an attempt was made to board her by an open row boat belonging to one Mitchell, who it was understood, owned three or four of that description, and that some Spanish vessels had been plundered by him. On coming alongside the Hummingbird, the pirates were informed that if they attempted to board they would be fired into, as preparations had been made to repel them. They took the hint accordingly and sheered off.

The pilot who carried the brig Alknomack to sea, bound for Jamaica, returned here on Monday, and informs that he left the brig on Thursday last in a Bay boat; that shortly after the boat fell in with a privateer brig under Buenos Ayrean colors, which took him and the Bay pilot on board to carry her up the Bay. There were no officers on board the brig except the boatswain, who officiated as the commander. The crew stated that they had some time before, risen upon their officers, confined them, and given the command of the brig to the boatswain; that they then steered for the West Indies and put the officers ashore on an island, and took a certificate from them of their having been put on shore, which certificate they exhibited to the pilots, probably with a view to convince them that they had not added murder to mutiny. Having thus disposed of their officers, they next steered for the Chesapeake, where having taken a Bay pilot on board, as before observed, they stated it to be their intention to proceed up the Bay. On their way up they kept the brig very close in shore on the western side, and landed at three different times 23 of their men. In the mouth of Severn river they came to anchor, and smuggled ashore a number of articles which they sold; among other things they sent ashore about 80 bbls of Irish pork and beef, and sold the former at *D*12 per bbl. The pilot is unable to say how long she remained at this anchorage, having left her while there; but understood from the crew that they intended, after selling out every thing on board, to get up as near to Baltimore as they could, and run the brig on shore; after which they would leave her and disperse themselves. They had a vast deal of money amongst them, which had been accumulated from various prizes, and the man who were put on shore carried with them as much specie as they knew what to do with. The pilot could not find out the name of the brig, and does not recollect any of the names of those on board, or of the officers who were left in the West Indies. [Ibid.

Philadelphia, July 16.

A gentleman of great accuracy, and who possesses one of the best Thermometers in the city, which is also desirably situated in the shade with a northern exposure, assures us that at 2 o'clock last Sunday, it rose to 100 degrees; at half past 2, it fell to 99; at a quarter before 3, to 98, where it remained stationary more than an hour. 98 is blood-heat.

That day, therefore, was the hottest ever known in this city within the memory of the oldest person now living.

From the Boston Magazine.

FASHIONS FOR SINGLE GENTLEMEN.

Hat—Of black or white beaver, brim half an inch wide—change, a hat of white straw or chip, brim six inches wide—green or black ribbon.—Hat must cock up behind, and incline a little over the right or left eye—this must depend on which side of the street the gentleman walks.

Coat—Any colour but drab, made to button close up to the chin, buttons any shape but round—cape of velvet, without any regard to colour, and cut low in the neck.—No pockets, sleeves long enough to hide the fingers.

Vest—White or black, two inches longer than the coat, to show a strip in front, when the coat is buttoned; collar shallow to show the cravat.

Cravat—Four or six one over the other according to the heat of the day—stuff, white cambric, or black silk, drawn tight, and knot at the lower edge.

Pantaloons—Cossack or meal-sack cut to reach within eight inches of the ankle. Color, brown or blue, made to hang in graceful folds about the hips.

Boots—Short, and laced before, heels four inches high, shod with steel, and tapering to a point to give firmness to the step.

Watch-chain—Gold, if possible, if not, black ribbon, or braided hair.

Watch, of no consequence.

When a young man is equipped as above, he must wear long hair, whisped up before in points, curled a little at the ear locks, and hanging down in large bundles behind.

POWER OF ORATORY.

In 1780 arrived among us from Ireland, the Rev. Mr. Whitefield, who had made himself remarkable as an itinerant preacher. He was at first permitted to preach in some of our churches; but the clergy taking a dislike to him, soon refused him their pulpits, and he was obliged to preach in the fields. The multitude of all sects and denominations that attended his sermons were enormous, and it was a matter of speculation to me (who was one of the number) to observe the extraordinary influence of his oratory on his hearers, and how much they admired and respected him, notwithstanding his common abuse of them, by assuring them, they were naturally half beasts and half devils. It was wonderful to see the change soon made in the manners of our inhabitants. From being thoughtless or indifferent about religion, it seemed as if the whole world were growing religious, so that one could not walk through the town in the evening, without hearing psalms sung in different families of each street. And it being found inconvenient to assemble in the open air, subject to its inclemencies, the building of a house to meet in was no sooner proposed, and persons appointed to receive contributions, but sufficient sums were received to procure the ground, and erect the building, which was 100 feet long and 70 broad; and the work was carried on with such spirit as to be finished in a much shorter time than could have been expected. Both house and ground were vested in trustees, expressly for the use of any preacher of any religious persuasion, who might desire to say something to the people at Philadelphia—the design in building not being to accommodate any particular sect, but the inhabitants in general; so that even if the Mufti of Constantinople were to send a missionary to preach Mahometanism to us, he would find a pulpit at his service.

"Mr. Whitefield, on leaving us, went preaching all through the colonies to Georgia. The settlement of that province had lately been begun, but instead of being made with hardy, industrious husbandmen, accustomed to labor, the only people fit for such an enterprise, it was with families of broken shop-keepers, and other insolvent debtors; many of indolent and idle habits, taken out of the jails, who being set down in the woods, unqualified for clearing land, and unable to endure the hardships of a new settlement, perished in numbers, leaving many helpless children unprovided for. The sight of their miserable situation inspired the benevolent heart of Mr. Whitefield with the idea of building an orphan-house there, in which they might be supported and educated. Returning northward, he preached up this charity, and made large collections: for his eloquence had a wonderful power over the hearts and purses of his hearers, of which I myself was an instance. I did not disapprove of the design, but as Georgia was then destitute of materials and workmen, and it was proposed to send them from Philadelphia at a great expense, I thought it would have been better to have built the house at Philadelphia, and brought the children to it.—This I advised, but he was resolute in his first project, rejected my council, and I therefore refused to contribute. I happened soon after to attend one of his sermons, in the course of which I perceived he intended to finish with a collection, and I silently resolved he should get nothing from me. I had in my pocket a handful of copper money, three or four silver dollars, and five pistoles in gold: as he proceeded I began to soften, and concluded to give the coppers. Another stroke of his oratory made me ashamed of that, and determined me to give the silver, and he finished so admirably, that I emptied my pocket wholly into the collector's dish, gold and all! At this sermon there was also one of our club, who being of my sentiments respecting the building in Georgia, and suspecting a collection might be intended, had by precaution emptied his pockets before he came from home; towards the conclusion of the discourse, however, he felt a strong inclination to give, and applied to a neighbor who stood near him to lend him some money for the purpose. The request was fortunately made to perhaps the only man in the company who had the firmness not to be affected by the preacher. His answer was:—"At any other time, friend Hopkinson, I would lend to thee freely; but not now, for thee seems to me to be out of thy right senses."

From the New-York Daily Advertiser.

Nearly a century ago, several travellers of respectability, at different times, visited the tract of country over which the Israelites passed in their journey from the Red Sea, to the Promised Land. In examining the region in the neighborhood of Mount Sinai, they severally discovered, among other evidences of the Mosaic History, the Rock Meribah, from which the great Jewish Leader, in a miraculous manner, drew water for the immense host of his countrymen. Two of these travellers was Shaw and Pococke, two Englishmen of respectability and integrity. As their descriptions of this monument of antiquity, so interesting for the corroboration which it affords to the Sacred Historian, and so venerable for having been the object upon which was wrought so wonderful a miracle as that above mentioned are so minute and satisfactory, we have transcribed them for publication.

SHAW.

"After we had descended with no small difficulty down the western side of this mountain, we came into the other plain that is formed by it, which is Rephidim.—Here we still see that extraordinary antiquity, the Rock of Meribah, which hath continued down to this day without the least injury from time or accidents. It is a block of granite marble about four yards square, lying tottering as it were, and loose in the middle of the valley, and seems to have formerly belonged to Mount Sinai, which hangs in a variety of precipices over all this plain. The waters which gushed out, and the streams which flowed withal, have hollowed across one corner of this rock, a channel about 2 inches deep and 20 wide, appearing to be crustated, all over like the inside of a tea kettle that hath been long in use. Besides several mossy productions that are still preserved by the dew, we see all over this channel a great number of holes, some of them four or five inches deep and one or two in diameter, the lively and demonstrable tokens of their having been formerly so many fountains. It likewise may be further observed, that art or chance could by no means be concerned in the contrivance; for every circumstance points out to us a miracle, and in the same manner with the rent rock of Mount Calvary at Jerusalem, never fails to produce a religious surprise in all who see it."

POCOCKE.

"Here they show the Rock, which, they say, Moses struck and the waters flowed out when God told him he would stand before him upon the rock of Horeb, which was afterwards called Massah and Meribah. It is on the foot of Mount Seric, and is a red granite stone, fifteen feet long, ten wide, and about twelve high. On both sides of it towards the south end, and at the top of the stone, for about the breadth of eight inches, it is discoloured as by the running of water—and all down this part on both sides, and at the top are a sort of openings, or mouths, some of which resemble the lion's mouth, that is sometimes cut in stone spouts, but appear not to be the work of a tool. There are about twelve on each side, and within every one is a horizontal crack, and in some also a crack perpendicularly down. There is also a crack from one of the mouths next the hill, that extends two or three feet towards the north, and all round the south end. The Arabs call this stone the Stone of Moses."

In 1722, a person called the Prefetto of the Franciscans in Egypt, made the same tour. His manuscript Journal was afterwards translated by the Bishop of Clogher, the Reverend Robert Clayton. He visited the same object, which he says is called by the Greeks the Stone of Fountains, and is considered the same that Moses struck with his rod. He describes it as follows:—

"Which aforementioned stone is about twelve feet high, and about eight or ten broad, though it is not all of one equal breadth; it is a granite marble of a kind of brick colour, composed of red and white spots which are both dusky in their kind; and stands by itself in the aforementioned valley as if it had grown out of the earth, on the right hand of the road towards the north east. There remains on it to this day the lively impression of the miracle then wrought—for there are still to be seen places whence the water gushed out; six openings towards the south west, and six openings towards the north east; and in these places where the water flowed, the clefts are still to be seen in the rock, as it were with lips."

The fast sailing ship Pacific, one of the line of regular packets, capt. Williams, arrived below last evening from Liverpool, which place she left 1st of June. One of the owners who went down to the ship, has politely favored us with London and Liverpool papers to the 28th May, and a price current of the 30th.

The Hon. Mr. Eustis, late minister to the Hague, and family, are among the passengers in the Pacific.

The London papers are without interest.

The health of the queen was better.

It was expected that the resumption of cash payments by the Bank of England, would be deferred till the 5th of July, 1819.

The coronation of Bernadotte, king of Sweden, took place on 11th May, by the title of Charles 14th.

The last sales of cotton were at 21½ for good fair Upland, and 21½ for good—in N. Orleans, not much doing, prices steady—Sea-Island, dull.

At the Liverpool Corn Market, May 30, some small sales of Flour were made to country buyers at 45s. There was a good deal of speculative enquiry for it at 42 a 43s, but the holders were firm in demanding high prices. For good wheat there was a fair demand, but without improvement in price. The average corn returns of the first two weeks of the present quarter, 87s 11 and 87 5, which indicates no material decline throughout the country generally, and strengthens the probability that the ports will continue open.

Prices Current, May 30.—Cotton upland 1s 8½ a 1s 9½; New Orleans 1s 8½ a 2s 0½; Sea Islands 3s a 3s 9; Tobacco, Virginia, 7d a 10½d; Ashes, pots 52s a 55s; pearls 55s a 56s; Tar 16s a 17s; Turpentine 15s a 16s; Rice in bond 36s a 37s; Bark 16s a 21s; wheat 70 lbs 10s 6 a 11s 6; Flour 43s a 45s; sour do 37s a 38s.

London, May 27.

Last night's Gazette contains an order in council for prohibiting, for six months longer, from the 30th inst. the exportation of gunpowder, arms or ammunition, to Africa, the West Indies or America.

Corn Exchange.—The continued large supply which we are daily receiving, causes a great stagnation in the trade in general. The wheat and barley trade is particularly dull; in short, there was so little doing we quote the prices nominally the same as on Monday—at the close of the market on that day, flour declined 5s per sack—best prices 70s.

May 26.—The funds, which have been for some time past slightly declining, experienced yesterday a more marked depression, consols being at one time down so low as 78¼; the cause of their last decline is attributed to an eminent banker of extensive country connections, who had previously sold for the account, having yesterday actually delivered the stock bargained for, amounting, it is said, to about 1,000,000l consols.

Alex'a. Common Council.

JULY 16, 1818.

The following order was read and laid on the table:

Ordered, That Pitt, from Cameron to Queen street, be paved according to law.

Ordered, That the street commissioner do cause the west side of Water street, between King street and Fayette alley, to be filled up, and charge the expense to the second ward, provided it does not exceed 20 dollars.

Ordered, That the tax of five dollars, charged to John Johnson for a mad dog, be remitted.

Ordered, That Messrs. Davis and Rhodes be a committee to ascertain the probable expense of repairing the public spring, at the lower end of Union street, and report accordingly.

Ordered, That the keeper of the powder house, under the direction of the mayor, do cause the powder house to be slated and put into a state of repair sufficient to prevent injury to the powder stored therein.

Resolved, That Messrs. Moore and Smith be a committee to inquire into and confer with the Levy Court on the expediency of providing another room for the use of the clerk of the circuit court of the district of Columbia for the county of Alexandria.

Ordered, That the committee appointed to examine into the state of the public property be authorised to procure copies of all the deeds of said property and charge the expense thereof to the general fund.

RAN away from the subscriber on Saturday night the 27th ult. a Negro man by the name of JACOB THOMPSON, aged 22 or 23, nearly 6 feet high, very black, and rather a down look when spoken to—he is very apt to put one hand up to his chin when answering questions. He is a very submissive orderly fellow—His clothing that can be recollected consisted of a blue second cloth coat with yellow buttons, nearly new; Russia sheeting shirts and trowsers, and a variety of other clothing not recollected. I fully expect he must have from 150 to 200 dollars with him in money—and very little doubt but he had furnished himself with free papers. Whoever takes up the said fellow, secures him in jail, and retains all moneys that may be found on him, shall be entitled to the money found on him, and the above reward if taken out of the District; or twenty dollars if taken within the District of Columbia. 50 Dollars Reward

RAN away from the subscriber on Saturday night the 27th ult, a Negro man by the name of JACOB THOMPSON, aged 22 or 23, nearly 6 feet high, very black, and rather a down look when spoken to—he is very apt to put one hand up to his chin when answering questions. He is a very submissive orderly fellow—His clothing that can be recollected consisted of a blue second cloth coat with yellow buttons, nearly new; Russia sheeting shirts and trowsers, and a variety of other clothing not recollected. I fully expect he must have from 150 to 200 dollars with him in money—and very little doubt but he had furnished himself with free papers. Whoever takes up the said fellow, secures him in jail, and retains all moneys that may be found on him, shall be entitled to the money found on him, and the above reward if taken out of the District ; or twenty dollars if taken within the District of Columbia. A PERSON who carries on the manufacture of those instruments in New-York is now in Alexandria, where he will remain a short time, during which he will attend to repair, regulate the action and improve their tones and musical effects.—A specimen of his work and abilities may be examined in the store second door below the Mechanics' Bank, King street, where he offers for sale two of his Piano-Fortes at the New-York prices—one of them an elegant upright grand, of a full bodied mellow tone and brilliant touch—the other is of the horizontal sextagon form, highly finished, with extra additional keys. He warrants them perfectly sound, and of the first quality.—He will allow in exchange a fair price for old pianos or organs, being such as he approves.—He also has for sale a few fine toned old violins and elegant bows, and concert flutes.—He is perfectly acquainted with the harpsichord construction, and offers to put them in complete order.

600 acres of Land for sale.

THIS Tract is situated in Westmoreland county, Virginia, adjacent to Mr. Garnett Hunter's Plantation, and contiguous to the waters of the Potomac. The neighborhood is good—water excellent, and very desirable situations for building. A considerable proportion of the land is well timbered, besides a good deal of cedar, pine and other wood, sufficiently convenient to make it an object for those who may be disposed to send it to market—it is nearly equi-distant from Baltimore, Washington and Norfolk.

Any one wishing to purchase may apply to ROGER JONES,

Also, a very valuable LOT, containing 140 acres, being a part of the late Mr. John Turberville's tract—within 6 miles of Georgetown, 3 from the Little Falls Bridge, and near to the turnpike leading from thence to Wiley's, in Fairfax county, Va. A great proportion of this land is exceedingly well timbered, and that part which is not, is so recently cleared as to be in an active state for cultivation, and already in a productive condition.—For terms, apply to PHILIP C. JONES, esq. in Leesburg, Va. or to R. JONES.

For Sale,

The timbered land will be laid off into 10 or 15 acre lots, reserving a sufficient quantity for the land now cleared and in cultivation. It is unnecessary to say that this land is as well adapted to plaister as any in that part of the country; and if not sold at private sale previous to the September Leesburg court, will be then offered at public sale, and the terms made known on the day.

BILL IN CHANCERY.

Robert Perry

versus

James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunnington, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James Bloxham and Catharine his wife, William Simmons and Esther his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.

THE Complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in possession the real estate of their deceased father Wm. Dunnington, whose personal estate was not sufficient for the payment of his debts. Wm. Dunnington's estate is indebted to the complainant in a large sum of money. The object of the bill is to procure a decree for the sale of the land, for the payment of the debts remaining unpaid by the personal estate. Some of the heirs of Wm. Dunnington are non-residents.—It is thereupon, at motion of the Complainant, ordered that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette for the space of three months, to the intent that the absent defendants may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in this court in person or by a solicitor, to shew cause, if any there be, wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed. Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phænomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavoured to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.

THOMAS COOPER, M. D.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums,

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
